

MCAST SURVEY

Jamie Grech 4.2 SYNOPTIC

Helpful features

the most helpful features, being the online prospectus bar for students to be able to have more insight of mcast, and the courses it offers

Confusing features

Texts are barely readable and a lot of documents that feel disorganized and repetitive

Lack of features

due to overwhelming placement of pages the information gets lost in clarity, such as information about the stipend and what to expect in MCAST such as activities that are also offered

Design

The colours and contrast go well, however maybe adjusting the text placement and width like the info bar, and making it feel more interactive for the viewer

Functionality

Simple design and more minimal tabs, easier to navigate and find the correct information, more accessibility for smartphone users

Summary

The site offers helpful features like an online prospectus bar that enhances student access to course information. However, many texts are barely readable, and numerous documents feel disorganized and repetitive, affecting user experience.

Overwhelming page placement causes clarity issues, especially concerning stipends and extracurricular activities. The color scheme and contrast are effective, but text placement and width need adjustment to improve interactivity.

Finally, a simpler design with minimal tabs and better smartphone accessibility would significantly enhance navigation and usability for all users.
